Dear Mr. Davis:

Some thirty years ago you were serving in the Armed Forces of the United States of America in the European theater, during World War II.

I, at that time, was a young Polish girl, living near where you parachuted into the forest.

My father and brother were among those who helped you immediately. When you were taken to Wola Botorska, I brought food and other things to you. You may remember me as the young slim blonde girl.

I have had the good fortune of coming to the United States and becoming a resident of Florida. If you recall your experience in Poland, I would like to hear of your experiences and eventual escape from the Germans.

Very truly yours,

Mrs Danuta Leclerq

Gentlemen:

I would be most grateful for passing the enclosed letter to Mr. Morgan C. Davis, a former pilot in the U. S. Air Force. Toward the end of World War II, after having parachuted near Cracow, Poland, he was being helped by my family and friends.

In its issue of June 30, 1976, Polish Daily Zgoda from Chicago had reported about a visit of American pilots - former POW's in camp Zagan in Poland. Although Mr. Davis' name was not mentioned in the paper's correspondence, I believe he might have taken part in that visit if alive.

From a member of my family in Poland, I received Mr. Davis' address and wrote a letter to him addressed at it. Apparently, the address I received is not the right one, since the letter has been returned to me. I hope that, through the intermediary of your Office, the enclosed letter will have reached Mr. Morgan C. Davis at his present address.

Thank you very much for your kind consideration.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Danuta Leclerq
